Introduction

This handlist includes details of original parish registers, bishops' transcripts and transcripts held at the Kent History and Library Centre and Canterbury Cathedral Archives. There is also a guide to the location of the original registers held at Medway Archives and Local Studies Centre and four other repositories holding registers for parishes that were formerly in Kent.

This Guide lists parish names in alphabetical order and indicates where parish registers, bishops' transcripts and transcripts are held.

Parish Registers

The guide gives details of the christening, marriage and burial registers received to date. Full details of the individual registers will be found in the parish catalogues in the search room and community history area. The majority of these registers are available to view on microfilm. Many of the parish registers for the Canterbury diocese are now available on www.findmypast.co.uk access to which is free in all Kent libraries.

Bishops' Transcripts

This Guide gives details of the Bishops' Transcripts received to date. Full details of the individual registers will be found in the parish handlist in the search room and Community History area. The Bishops Transcripts for both Rochester and Canterbury diocese are held at the Kent History and Library Centre.

Transcripts

There is a separate guide to the transcripts available at the Kent History and Library Centre. These are mainly modern copies of register entries that have been donated to the office, often by the compiler.

Note: these transcripts are likely to have been prepared as part of the bishops' transcripts series for the Canterbury diocesan office. At an unknown date in the 19th century they were cut and pasted into this volume as "curious original manuscripts . . . a valuable acquisition to any Gentlemen collecting the County History" [thus described in the sale catalogue].
