SOCIAL MEDIA AND THE INTERNET

SOCIAL MEDIA & THE INTERNET

We want to enjoy using the internet and social media, as it is a good way to keep in touch with people and find out about things. However, people do not always know how to keep themselves safe when they are on the internet.

Remember:

- Use all technology including mobile phones, games consoles, tablets and computers safely and respectfully when sharing information with others.
- Take time to think before posting messages and images that could be hurtful or embarrassing to yourself or others.
- Take care on the internet, some things and people are not what they seem.
- If things get tricky and you become uncomfortable, leave the site and ignore comments or emails.
- Tell someone if you are worried about anything that has happened while you've been online.

Go to the Mental Health Foundation website (under resources and links) that has easy read guidance, which is free to download. There is a section on Profiles, Facebook, Email, Skype and Twitter. Each section has useful tips.
