Introduction
Introductions were completed, and the agenda was shared with attendees.
Overview
A KCC representative informed attendees that Oak Manor currently has eleven young residents. Daily education is taking place at the centre, with young people learning English and developing their understanding of UK culture. Weekly independent living skills sessions also remain in place. A KCC Councillor representative asked how many young people approaching the age of eighteen were expected to remain in Kent. A KCC representative advised that a small number of those young residents are expected to remain in Kent. A KCC PREVENT representative provided an update on protest activity. They reported that there were community tensions across Kent; however, there were no concerns identified in the Oak Manor area. The KCC representative closed the meeting and thanked attendees for their time.
